Family Run Funeral Directors

TERMS OF BUSINESS

It is a legal requirement to display in our funeral home and on our website details of the following:

What deposit is required for a funeral service.

We ask that all third party costs (disbursements) are settled prior to the funeral service taking place. These costs typically include cremation/burial fees, doctor's fees, church or minister fees and orders of service.

When the final balance must be paid.

We ask that the final balance is settled within 28 days of receipt of the funeral account by the client, deceased's bank or solicitor managing the estate, unless otherwise agreed.

3) the options, including interest charged, which a Funeral Director offers to a customer in respect of payment of any deposit made and final balance.

We accept the following payment options; credit or debit card, cash, cheque or bank transfer.

We do not offer any options in respect of instalment payments.

We reserve the right apply interest of 5% to accounts which are outstanding for over 90 days, however following 6 months of the account outstanding we may pass the account to a recovery agency and costs associated with recovering the account will be applied.
